Winner of the 2012 Schneider Family Book Award Jessica thinks her life is over when she loses a leg in a car accident. Shes not comforted by the news that shell be able to walk with the help of a prosthetic leg. Who cares about walking when you live to run As she struggles to cope with crutches and a first cyborg-like prosthetic, Jessica feels oddly both in the spotlight and invisible. People who dont know what to say, act like shes not there. Which she could handle better if she werent now keenly aware that shed done the same thing herself to a girl with CP named Rosa. A girl who is going to tutor her through all the math shes missed. A girl who sees right into the heart of her. With the support of family, friends, a coach, and her track teammates, Jessica may actually be able to run again. But thats not enough for her now. She doesnt just want to cross finish lines herself she wants to take Rosa with her. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive...
