Mr. Riley himself spoke a few words and later sent the following letter to the pupils at Greenfield: Indianapolis, Indiana, Oct. 9, 1911. To the Pupils of the Greenfield Schools, Greenfield, Ind. Dear Friends of Mr. Riley: Being unable to write to you himself, my uncle has asked me to express his gratitude for the appreciative birthday greetings you sent to him on behalf of the teachers and pupils of the Greenfield schools. Your greetings were especially welcome, more dear than any of the many others, because they recall the happy days of his youth in Greenfield, many memories of the old home, and the loyalty of the people of Greenfield. He asks me to return to his friends, one and all, his gratitude, appreciation and love. Very truly yours, edmund Eitel. The Riley home, on West Main street, still stands and is a place of interest both to the citizens and to visitors of Greenfield. WILL H. GLASCOCK. Will H. Glascock was born in Hancock county, February 10, 1857. He began teaching in the fall of 1877, at Woodbine school house in Center township. His first college training was received at the Central Normal College at Danville, Indiana. On August 29, 1880, he was married to Miss Alice Creviston, of Greenfield, Indiana. In 1885, he was elected county superintendent of schools of Hancock county, and served four years. He then...
