O. , 2008. LC Number: KF26 . A7 2007k OCLC Number: (OCoLC)230823547 Subject: United States -- Armed Forces -- Recruiting, enlistment, etc. Excerpt: . . . 11 In order to sustain our All-Volunteer Force, we must do more to provide soldiers and families a quality of life equal to the quality of their service. Family support systems - such as health care, housing, childcare, and education - designed for the pre-September 11 peacetime Army must be adapted to sustain an Army at war. Furthermore, the demographics of todays Army are markedly different from any Army that has fought an extended conflict in our Nations history. Over half of our soldiers are married and a majority of Army spouses are employed. Army families include over 700, 000 children - a number greater than the entire population of the capital city where we meet today. These demographics alone pose new challenges. When a married mother or father deploys, he or she leaves behind a single parent household and all the challenges associated with that family dynamic. Single-parent soldiers must leave their children in the care of others. With multiple deployments and dwell time filled with training for the next deployment, the stress on the family increases. SUPPORT FOR SOLDIERS AND FAMILIES Recognizing this, General Casey and I have recently signed the Army Family Cov-enant, which states: We recognize the commitment and increasing sacrifices that our families are making every day. We recognize the strength of our soldiers comes from the strength of their families. We are committed to providing soldiers and families a quality of life...
